Basis Training

Develop an understanding of the benefits of agile

Study just enough to get started and learn as you go

Our introductory course gives you just enough agile knowledge to start experimenting with the approach. You will learn by doing, applying your knowledge as you go.

Use this session to develop awareness amongst your teams and to help staff and leaders to realise the benefits of agile.

Do you recognise yourself, or your team members, in two or more of these points? If so, the Introduction to Agile training is for you.

- You've heard of agile but unsure how to make it work for you
- You stuck on your existing projects and need some help to make progress quickly

- Your team needs to deliver improvements whilst still running your service and you are unsure how to make this happen.

Learn the basics of using agile in public services

Getting started with your first agile project

Delivering and managing change in public services is difficult.

Public services provide support to some of the most vulnerable people in society, there is a lot of complexity in doing this.

Planning change projects in a linear way using traditional project management approaches often holds organisations back from learning and refining their changes over time.

We believe that Agile is suited to transforming public services because it thrives in a world of complexity. We have tried, tested and improved the approach on real projects in public services.

We've developed this course because we genuinely believe that taking an Agile approach to delivery in the public sector leads to much better results, more social value and crucially improved outcomes for citizens.

This course will give you enough agile knowledge theory to start experimenting with the approach. It is focused on you leaving with the ability to get started immediately.

Who is this training for?

Anyone who is interested in understanding how to adopt agile to deliver improvements in their organisations

You might be:

- An experienced project or programme manager
- Transformation or Change Consultant
- Service Manager aiming to better understand how to increase collaboration and impact of improvement work

What our clients say

"An interactive learning experience with practical applications for everyone's worklife."

- L&D Consultant, Sport England

"It's beautifully simple. For me, true brilliance is making complicated things easy to understand and this training and trainers did exactly that!"

- Sport England

"Great session on - I've had some really good feedback from people who attended and I think it was really useful for everyone to get a proper, formal introduction to Agile"

- Westminster City Council, The Royal Borough of Kensington & Chelsea

We are proud of what we do

The skills you need to turn messy problems into meaningful opportunities.

Basis Training was established to meet our clients needs for high-quality, impactful public sector training at an affordable price point.

In 2010, driven by acute austerity, our clients told us, "we need to diversify our staff's skills to save money." We realised we could fill that knowledge gap – and fill it well – so we started developing our first courses to rave reviews.

Since then, we've made it our mission to build more and more courses in response to our clients' most pressing problems. We take those problems and turn them into meaningful opportunities by equipping delegates with a powerful mix of theory and frontline experience.
